

Artist-in-Residence Programme: Guidelines

What is the Artist-in-Residence Programme?

The Artist-in-Residence Programme was established jointly by the Netherlands Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities and Social Sciences (NIAS-KNAW) and the Society of Arts. It is a fellowship enabling artists to spend five months at the NIAS working on a project that contributes to cross-fertilisation between the arts and science. The purpose of the residency is to study the theoretical aspects of a subject in-depth.

The Artist-in-Residence Programme makes two places available each academic year. One place is available from 1 September to 1 February, and the other is available from 1 February to 1 July.

Who is eligible?

- Dutch artists who work in the Netherlands or abroad, or
- Non-Dutch artists who live and work in the Netherlands

What does the Artist-in-Residence fellowship consist of?

- A stipend of € 3200 per month (gross). For five months, this comes to a maximum of € 16,000 (gross)
- Temporary housing close to the NIAS or an allowance to cover travel between the fellow's place of residence in the Netherlands and the NIAS (public transport, 2nd class travel or a fixed mileage allowance)
- Temporary offices, IT and library facilities and lunches at the NIAS
There are no artist's studios available.
- A travel allowance (economy class) for return travel between the artist's home abroad and the Netherlands
- Fellows are responsible for paying tax to the Tax and Customs Administration of the Netherlands (Belastingdienst) or to the tax authorities of the country in which they are liable to pay tax

When and how should you apply or nominate a candidate?

- Members of the Society of Arts may apply on their own behalf
- If the candidate is not a member of the Society of Arts, he/she must be nominated by a member of the Society of Arts, the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences, or The Young Academy.
- The deadline for submitting applications or nominations is 3 April 2017 for both fellowships, i.e. 1 September 2017 to 1 February 2018 (first semester) and 1 February to 1 July 2018 (second semester).
- Applications must be submitted by email to avk@knaw.nl using the official application form. The form is available at www.akademievankunsten.nl. You must also submit the candidate's CV as an attachment.

When will the outcome be announced?

- The NIAS and the Society of Arts will announce the names of the first and second semester fellows for the 2017/2018 academic year in May 2017.

Who assesses the applications and nominations?

- The rector of the NIAS and the chairperson of the Society of Arts will assess the competing candidates. The official secretary of the Society of Arts plays an advisory role. The candidates are assessed on established criteria (see below). An interview is part of the assessment process.
- The decision to award an Artist-in-Residence fellowship will be taken jointly by the rector of the NIAS and the chairperson of the Society of Arts. If they are unable to reach agreement within a specified period of time, the Academy Board will decide.

What are the assessment criteria?

- A clearly formulated research question that is well suited to the Artist-in-Residence Programme.
- The added value of a period of residence at the NIAS.
- A clear description of the activities the candidate intends to undertake and the result he/she aims to achieve. The period of residence at the NIAS should lead to real results, for example a publication/essay or a concept/framework that can be made publicly available.

What are the accountability requirements?

- The Artist-in-Residence must ensure that the result (or process leading to the result), including suitable images and explanations, is available for publication on the NIAS and Society of Arts websites during or shortly after the end of the fellowship.
- The Artist-in-Residence must submit a brief report on his/her fellowship activities and results during the final month of the fellowship.

About the NIAS

The Netherlands Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities and Social Sciences (NIAS-KNAW) fosters advanced research in the humanities and social sciences, and encourages interdisciplinary scholarly cooperation in an international setting. The NIAS is an institute of the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences (KNAW). It is located in Amsterdam.

About the Society of Arts

The purpose of the Society of Arts is to serve as the voice of the arts in Dutch society (including the political world) and to promote interaction between the arts, between the arts and society, and between the arts and science. For the time being, the Society of Arts is part of the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences. The Society of Arts has been made possible in part by a contribution from the Dutch Ministry of Education, Culture and Science and the cultural funds of the Netherlands.
